IMPORTANCE OF TRACE ELEMENTS IN AGRICULTURE CITED IN PAPER

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—One of the nation's top biologists has found that yield and growth of plants or animals are no longer indicators of the individual's health.

"It is gradually becoming evident that visual symptoms of plant and animal deficiency need not be evident to prove deficiencies in the health and vigor of the organism," declared Dr. William D. McElroy, professor of biology at Johns Hopkins University.

He disclosed his findings in a paper read before the National Academy of Sciences last week on the function of trace elements in biology and agriculture. Trace elements are the very small quantities of some elements required by the body for normal health. They include iron, zinc, manganese and copper.

Meaning To Farmer
"The fact that the micronutrient (small requirement) elements are required in only extremely small quantities make them no less important than the major elements," McElroy said.

What does it mean to the farmer? It means that application of trace elements and other fertilizers to the soil and in the diets of animals can produce maximum crop yield or maximum growth rate, while at the same time providing top nutritional benefit for the organism.

Similar To Vitamin Action
For most organisms the prime nutritional requisites are sulphur, phosphorus, potassium, magnesium, calcium, nitrogen and sodium chloride (salt).

McElroy said the fact that the trace elements are needed in only small quantities indicates they function in the organism—plant or animal—as a stimulator to some body chemical reaction, usually in the enzyme system.

"In this respect the function of trace elements is similar to that of the organic micronutrients—the vitamins," he noted.

Effects Cited
Consequently these "stimulator" elements have what McElroy called "a significant effect" on the build up and break down of cells in plants and animals.

How can elements in extra quantity or in lesser quantity affect a plant or animal? McElroy cited these examples:

To secure aroma in tobacco, it is essential to develop a plant deficient in sulphur. To induce tensile strength and kink in wool, the dietary level of copper "may be one of the major factors which must be considered."

Waynesboro Hunter Ordered To Pay $138

Refusal of a Waynesboro man to show his hunting license or permit inspection of his car led to his paying $138 in fines and costs before Justice of the Peace Roy E. Metz, Fairfield R. 1, January 14. Game Protector Paul Glenn announced today.

Glenny on December 14 came upon a 15-year-old youth hunting in the mountains, inquired about who was accompanying him and was told by the youth that his father was hunting with him. Later the father denied to Glenn that he was hunting, refused to show his license and refused to allow Glenn to search his car.

As a result charges of failing to show a license and refusal to allow search were brought against Wilber C. Hahn, 48, 245 Wayne Ave., Waynesboro, and he was found guilty by Justice Metz and assessed the fine and costs.

MENCHEY GETS ORDERS ON NEW STAFF PAYROLL

County Register and Recorder Carl Menchey has been assessed $129.26 to help pay the salaries of a "small statewide management staff to serve as a level of review of inheritance tax matters at the county level and provide guidance in establishing greater uniformity in state practices and procedures."

The assessment will not come from the pocket of the local register and recorder however. He will get credit for the amount in turning in inheritance tax receipts.

Gerald A. Gleason, state secretary of Revenue, in notifying Menchey that he should send the check for $129.26 was made in conformity with an opinion of the state attorney general that such method may be used to pay for the "management staff." The amount is the allocation for Adams County's share of the "sum for administrative disbursements for the state-wide staff to take care of costs for the balance of the fiscal year."

According to Gleason's letter, the county register may possibly also be billed for furniture to be used by the state "staff." Gleason's letter said that the opinion also permits remedy of the "present condition wherein Department of Revenue staff assigned to some registers work with sub-standard equipment and furniture. The opinion provides for purchase of necessary equipment and supplies with the bill to be sent to the local register.

Gleason's letter said it is expected the "additional staff activities will significantly stimulate the revenue collection from this tax (inheritance) with mutual benefit to the commonwealth and your office."

Large Congregation

News Briefs

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Ataturk Square, the center of the Turkish sector of Nicosia, was turned into a battlefield today as hundreds of Turkish demonstrators clashed with police and security forces.

Three persons were reported killed in the clashes. Policemen, soldiers and demonstrators were injured.

The demonstrators chanting slogans for the partition of Cyprus, clashed with British soldiers and Turkish mobile police who attempted to divert them from a march on the Greek area of the island capital city.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Lawrence P. Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., today continues as a director of Dist. 8, U.S. Trotting Assn.

Sheppard, who is also national president of the Association, was re-elected to the post Saturday by a 403 vote margin over Lt. Gov. David Buckson of Middletown, Del.

District 8 encompasses Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP)—Lt. Paul Lapinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lapinski, Mount Carmel, Pa., was one of two men killed in the crash of a jet fighter near El Toro, Calif., Marine air station, the Marine Corps said.

The plane crashed Friday and its wreckage was discovered Saturday.

Lapinski, co-pilot of the airplane, is survived also by his widow, Irene, of Havelock, N.C.

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Three persons were injured, none seriously, investigators said, when a bus skidded into a tree on Rt. 29 in Sugar Loaf Twp. Saturday night.

The injured were identified as the driver, Donald Persuns, 28, Trout Run, and passengers, Theodore Polansky, 50, State College, and Mrs. Nona Stopper, 44, Williamsport.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A 30,000 tract of state game land in northern Dauphin County will remain intact with the building of the Anthracite Expressway.

M. J. Golden, executive director of the state game commission, made the announcement late Saturday to a protest meeting of Pennsylvania sportsmen who opposed possible plans to route the proposed highway through the game lands.

HONG KONG (AP)—Three American mothers have returned from a visit to their sons imprisoned in Red China, weary but cheered by Chinese hints that the three men may get clemency.

The three women held a news conference after their arrival from Canton.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A scientist who directed a secret study of U. S. defenses said today the Soviet Union now could mount a combined bomber-missile submarine attack that could kill 20 to 30 million Americans.

Dr. Ellis A. Johnson, director of the Johns Hopkins University operations research office, said "at the present time, our defense is not very good—very poor, as a matter of fact, if an attack were to come immediately."

ECONOMY MOVE ON STATE POLICE

HARRISBURG (AP)—State police, in an economy move, were taken off driver examination details at high schools today throughout the state.

State police headquarters put out a general order that high school students who now complete driver training courses must go to the examination stations state police operate for the general public.

Headquarters gave two other reasons for dropping the special details:

1. The 1957 Legislature increased from 90 days to 120 days the duration of learner's permits taken out by high school students participating in accredited courses.

2. The extra month gives the students an opportunity to go with their parents to testing stations and so enable driving school instructors to devote more time to actual instruction of other students.

LICENSED TO WED

Harold D. Liller, Emmitsburg, and Wilma Jean Fair, Taneytown, have secured a wedding license in Frederick.

IKE DIGS INTO REORGANIZATION OF DEFENSE DEPT.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration plans for reorganizing the Defense Department, given a shove by President Eisenhower, may be ready in about 60 days.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles gave that estimate as the House Armed Services Committee recalled Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin today in its continuing probe of defense activities. Gavin, who has criticized the present system, is retiring March 31 as chief of Army research and development.

Quarles told a television audience that the administration has not yet decided what form its proposals for reorganization may take.

"It would be premature to say that we have plans, but I would think 60 days was about the amount of time that would be required to formulate plans," he said.

Ike Pushes Move

Eisenhower took a personal hand in the effort Saturday, conferring for more than two hours at the Pentagon with Secretary of Defense McElroy, Quarles and a number of other military and civilian leaders.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty was asked why Eisenhower went to the Pentagon rather than calling a White House meeting.

"The President said he was going to take a personal interest in this, so he went over there," Hagerty replied.

There was no announcement after the meeting of what possibilities had been discussed.

Democratic leaders reportedly have agreed to withhold major criticism for 60 days to give the administration time to plan the reorganization. The agreement is not binding, however, on individual Democrats who may want to suggest specific changes.

NYC WEATHERS YOUNG SUICIDE

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Central stock opened at $15.37 a share today after a delay of an hour and a half while specialists on the stock exchange matched a flood of buying and selling orders.

The opening price was off 12 cents from last Friday's close. The original transaction was made on 12,000 shares. This represented a bunching of many small orders.

It was the market's first reaction to Saturday's news of the suicide of Robert R. Young, chairman of the New York Central Railroad and Allegheny Corp.

Brokers said most of the orders to buy and sell in New York Central came in small lots from all sections of the country. There was no concerted selling.

Allegheny Corp. common opened at $4.25 a share, off 25 cents from Friday's close. It held around that level in subsequent dealings.

Missouri Pacific class "A" stock opened at $23.12, up 12 cents from Friday's close. Allegheny has an investment in Missouri Pacific.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

We listened with great pleasure, on Monday evening last, to the Lecture of Dr. Charles Horner before the "Young Men's Christian Association." From the retiring character of the Doctor, and his inexperience in public display, we feared that he might not "come up" to the standard of what is expected on these occasions.

But he far exceeded it; his advice was excellent; his manner pleasant; and his self-possession and confidence entirely unexpected by his friends. He has achieved a reputation which will induce future calls upon him in this capacity.

The next lecture will be delivered this evening at the Methodist church by Professor Muhlenberg — his subject, "Edmund Spenser."

On Monday evening next, the next lecture in course will be delivered by Edward M. Pherson, Esq., in the German Reformed Church.

The Littlestown Railroad Company elected its officers on Monday week. The following gentlemen were chosen: President, William McSherry; directors, Jacob Sterner, Joseph L. Shorb, Ephraim Myers, Edmund G. Shorb, William W. Dallas, Samuel Gault, David Swartz, Peter Grabbil, Daniel Mehning, John Mehning, (Rock Creek) and Robert Hickley.

The annual report of the company was very gratifying and promises the speedy realization of the hopes of the public.

From the Auditor General's Report for the past year we find that the amount of monies paid into the State Treasury during the year from this county was $18,408.95 while the amount received in the county for various purposes from the State during the same period was $4,228.06.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Today's Talk

THE WORDS WE USE

The expressive word, in the first place, was a wonderful creation. It brought people together. It gave them the opportunity for self-expression. It gave a garment to thought, and inspired people to understand one another, and to judge them fairly. I wish there were a universal language so that we might go where we would and still be among friends!

It is through the use of words that our minds are fed, and that people can judge the heart we own. It doesn't take very long for us to discover another human being after we have listened to his words for a spell. They are a big part of him. By them we become acquainted with each other.

The way you put words together in the expression of a thought is how you learn a little of the universal man. Most words are inspired by nations who do not understand their so-called enemy. We may well be related to the universal mind, but there must be the substance of understanding to give it value. Listen to the language of another person and soon you may know him as a friend. You will know him as a possibility in your life, at least. Words may become more precious than any other gift of expression. Words can become sympathetic, warm and cordial. By them we enter into the history of the world. With them our novels write their greatest books — books that may live forever!

We are, to a marked degree, the words that we use no matter how they are fashioned in form. Our great poets become masters in the use of words. God's love is woven into their very fabric!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Keep Advancing."

Just Folks

BE CHEERFUL
I never see a cripple smile
Or hear some patient sufferer say:
"I shall be better in a while
And get outdoors and romp
and play."

But what I sum up all my cares
And every burden that is mine,
Then say, if cheerfulness is theirs
What reason have I now to whine?

I never see a smile upon
A pale white face, but what I feel
A sense of shame that I go on Believing my own troubles real.

Making a mountain of my care
Instead of laughing it away,
Pouring my wails upon the air
And whimpering throughout the day.

If hope still lingers in the breast
Of one shut in a tiny room,
If one deformed can smile and jest
And see hope shining through the gloom.

Why should I, throughout the day,
Throw up my hands in grim despair
And whine and whimper on my way
Before my trifling bit of care?

Youngsters Launch

Ballistic Missiles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
High school boys at Houston, Tex., Spokane, Wash., and Steelton, Pa., launched homemade ballistic missiles yesterday.

David Lovch, 16, and Joseph Count, 15, launched their 15-inch aluminum rocket from Charles W. Holub's farm near Steelton. It swooshed yellow flame, shook its fins and went out of sight.

It was their fifth and they had a new twist on the fusing—paper toweling soaked in potassium nitrate. They went right to work on No. 6, which will be a two-stage job.

NEW YORK (AP) — George C. Boldt Jr., 78, son of the founder of the Waldorf-Astoria and for a number of years himself president of the famed hotel, died yesterday.

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Delegates started arriving today for the annual 3-day meeting of the Pennsylvania State Horticultural Assn. opening tomorrow.

President Harry Peters of Scotland, Franklin County, said about 500 Pennsylvania fruit growers were expected to attend.

French Embassy Makes Sure
Their Country's Literature
Is Available To Americans

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Staff Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — If you want to learn how a government can go to bat for books and arts, bookmen and artists, you should watch the devoted and thorough job done by France.

You don't have to go to Paris to watch, either. Don't let that keep you from going, of course, but a big part of the job is carried on in New York.

But for that matter you don't have to come to New York. The French reach out understandingly and helpfully into your own community anywhere from coast to coast.

Extended Through Embassy
Their long-time, direct support of cultural activities is extended through the Cultural Services of the French Embassy. The services themselves consist of scholarships, information, assistance of the most varied kinds, publications, loans of films, slides and photos.

The organization is housed in an old mansion on upper Fifth Ave., handily near the Metropolitan Museum. The imposing place has marble stairways, lofty ceilings, spacious halls and reception rooms, stacks of books and pictures. The offices are occupied by a large staff of busy bilingual secretaries, assistants, authorities and experts of one sort or another, all under the direction of Edouard Morot-Sir, an agreeable and persuasive combination of author, scholar, lecturer, diplomat and executive.

Requests For Information
From all over the United States, from libraries, colleges, schools, churches, clubs and individuals, this office receives every day 300 requests for information about France and French affairs.

"Please send me a 'Learn About France' kit."

May I have stamps, posters and information about Lafayette?

Can you help me illustrate my lecture with films, slides and photos on French art and geography?

How can I be admitted to the Paris Conservatory?

Can you help arrange appearances of my amateur vocal ensemble of 40 members in your country?

Do you have a bibliography on La Rochefontaine, Washington's aide, about whom I am doing an article?

How much did it cost to build Notre Dame?

Exhibitions Held Throughout U.S.
Americans enjoy direct contact with the Cultural Services operation. Book critics, among others, are invited to meet Francoise Sagan, or Maurice Herzog of "Annapurna" fame, or Albert Camus, new Nobel winner in literature. Theater critics meet Madeleine Renaud and Jean-Louis Barrault. Art critics are reminded of a young Frenchman showing his work for the first time in a gallery here. Indeed the Cultural Services help arrange events in this country.

Exhibitions of French tapestries, drawings and theatrical materials have been held in New York, Boston, Chicago and elsewhere, a Paris curator speaks in Washington and New York, a Paris newsmen lectures here.

Have Regular Sponsorship
Some other governments have patterned their regularized sponsorship of culture on this pioneering French bureau. It was found in one of France's darkest hours, in 1943, according to its eloquent spokesman, Mrs. Anne Minor, in charge of art activities.

"It began when Gen. de Gaulle determined that, in spite of the catastrophic defeat, the world should be kept reminded of the part of France that was eternal."

"It opened in two rooms in the French Consulate here, with Henri Seyrig, archaeologist, now director of the Archaeological Institute of Beirut, in charge. Under him the Services circulated an exhibition of French paintings of the 19th Century, and made its first contacts with educational circles."

Formal Government Support
"The next step was the securing of formal government support, and a separate home. Successive cultural attaches accented literature, and science, and Mr. Morot-Sir is a philosopher."

Doesn't the government tell you to do this, and not that? Our government, I pointed out, has political, ideological and cultural preferences of which, for instance, USA and ANTA must always be aware.

"Not at all," said Mrs. Minor. "Not in the least," said Morot-Sir.

Not A Propaganda Office
He went on: "This is not a propaganda office. Not even the slightest control is exercised over our intellectual, cultural and creative concerns. They are left in our hands. It would not occur to our government to instruct us in such things; they are within our competence."

Seyrig filled the attaché's post

South Dakota and North Dakota were admitted to the union as states on Nov. 2, 1889.

Snow And Rain
Hit Many Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow and rain continued to bring dismal winter weather to a vast portion of the nation today and about the only thing absent from the weather map was a cold wave.

The Northeastern quarter of the country had snow in an area stretching from the Dakotas and the upper and mid Mississippi Valley eastward through the Great Lakes and northern Ohio Valley.

As the storm moved eastward, snow and rain were reported in the southern edge of the Ohio Valley.

To the east of this snow section, there was rain and drizzle with snow in higher elevations of New England.

T-V EDUCATION PROGRAMS WILL BE GIVEN 5 YRS.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania State University and Triangle Publications, Inc., of Philadelphia have announced a 5-year agreement to provide educational television for thousands of Pennsylvanians.

The agreement, made known yesterday, provides for three hours of telecast per week from the Penn State campus to persons within the range of Triangle-owned stations.

Triangle is the licensee for station WFPG-TV in nearby Altoona. It also controls other stations.

Dr. Eric Walker, president of Penn State, called the agreement an unusual example of cooperation between an educational institution and commercial television stations "for the general welfare of the public."

Roger W. Clipp, vice president of Triangle's radio and television division, estimated that thousands of the state's residents might eventually view the educational programs.

Transmit From Campus
Under the terms of the agreement, Triangle Publications will install and maintain micro-wave facilities on the campus, linking the campus with the WFPG-TV transmitter in Altoona. The university will provide facilities to transmit programs from the point of origin on the campus to the transmitting point.

The university also will provide and Triangle will install and maintain microwave facilities from the WFPG-TV transmitter building in Altoona to the Penn State Center in Altoona, making possible transmission of closed-circuit television programs from the University Park campus to the center.

Triangle Publications will supply the university with a kinescope recorder and also will contribute to the university as financial support for the television project $10,000 a year.

Subject to regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, Triangle will make its facilities available to the university for its use in conjunction with such other programs as the university may desire to produce for broadcast by other television stations.

Triangle will retain control over all program material that is broadcast. The university will produce and broadcast educational programs from the campus a minimum of three hours, or six half-hours, per week.

Israel Army's Chief
Returns To Studies

Moshe Dayan, tough one-eyed native Palestinian who commanded Israel's army in the invasion of Egypt, prepared today to return to his studies in archaeology.

Dayan resigned as chief of staff yesterday and was replaced by his deputy, Russian-born Brig. Haim Laskow. The change takes effect Feb. 1.

Dayan, 43 and a veteran of Israel's pre-nation Haganah army, denied reports he has political ambitions. He said he had decided some time ago to quit the army to resume his studies at Hebrew University here.

South Dakota and North Dakota were admitted to the union as states on Nov. 2, 1889.

IOWA STUDENTS
USE OLD CABIN
FOR DORMITORY

PAYETTE, Iowa (AP) — A log cabin, its exact age lost with the passing years, is serving as a dormitory for three Upper Iowa University students.

John Gutz of Hampton, Jim Thompson of Belmont and Tom Swale of Clear Lake—Iowans all—rented the cabin from Miss Stella Latimer, on whose property it stands.

"It was pretty much of a mess when we first looked it over," said Gutz. "We understand that no one had lived in it for some time, and we had a big cleanup job on our hands."

Some paint and liberal use of "elbow grease" and cleaning powder rectified that. Then the three students bought a few pieces of furniture spending $10 for a rug, $11 for a refrigerator and $5 for a studio couch that makes up into a bed.

The telephone, hi-fi record player and radio in the single 14 by 16 foot downstairs room are in decided contrast to the rough-hewn log walls. A similar size upstairs room is used for sleeping.

Thompson is the cook, hastening to explain that he has no truck with dishwashing. Gutz and Swale take care of that chore along with the housework. To help out with the food bill, and add variety to their diet, all three go hunting and fishing.

The cabin has an oil heater, but the students keep it in reserve for the most severe winter weather. They say the large fireplace across one end of the cabin does a good job of heating.

The students worked during the fall with a local woodcutter who paid them off with a ton of fire-place wood.

GRANT IS BEST
DRESSED ACTOR

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Cary Grant, who admits he still wears a topcoat that he bought in 1935, today headed a list of Hollywood's best dressed men as voted by other male stars.

Sy Devore, famed movie stylist, polled some 300 actors after a reporter had long pressed him to name filmdom's fanciest 10.

Besides Grant, the list is, in this order, Jerry Lewis, Fred Astaire, Dean Martin, Bill Holden, Gary Cooper, Tony Curtis, Nat King Cole, David Niven and Clark Gable.

It's an honest count because Grant, Astaire, Cooper, Niven and Gable are not Devore clients.

The designer called Grant "a tailor's delight in casual clothes." Grant buys such expensive clothes that they never go out of style. That's why his 1935 topcoat is still as fashionable as its owner.

Lewis owns the biggest wardrobe by far. His closets currently have more than 300 suits, including 17 new tuxedos at $285 apiece.

Harriman Offers
Record Budget

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman today sent the New York Legislature a record-shattering $1,600,000,000 budget that calls for a 43-million boost in income tax—up to $35 a taxpayer.

He also warned the lawmakers that, unless they raised the state gasoline tax from 4 to 5 cents a gallon, the state would soon have to cut back its big highway construction program.

The income tax increases would take effect on returns due April 15, if the Legislature's Republican majorities are willing to raise taxes in this election year.

GOP leaders have indicated, to the contrary, that they will send Harriman a bill that would hold taxes at the current level. A veto would be used against him in his drive for re-election next fall.

Dayan resigned as chief of staff yesterday and was replaced by his deputy, Russian-born Brig. Haim Laskow. The change takes effect Feb. 1.

Dayan, 43 and a veteran of Israel's pre-nation Haganah army, denied reports he has political ambitions. He said he had decided some time ago to quit the army to resume his studies at Hebrew University here.

CLAIMS LEADER
ATTACKS HELPED

HARRISBURG (AP) — Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman claims Gov. Leader's opposition to his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination instead of hurting him, has helped him.

"Since the governor's provocative attack of me," said Furman in a weekend statement, "I have received many new offers of support from Democrats who have bitterly assailed Mr. Leader for starting an intra-party war."

By his latest reckoning, Furman said he had "substantial support in 56 of Pennsylvania's 67 counties and that includes Philadelphia and Allegheny counties."

Furman asserted that "terrific pressure" was being used to get grassroots support for Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia, the governor's preferred candidate, according to reliable reports.

BOY IS KILLED IN HOME BLAST

YORK, Pa. (AP) — A terrific explosion destroyed a home in nearby Loganville last night, killing a 15-year-old boy and injuring his mother and brother. A neighbor woman fell and broke her leg as she was running to the scene of the blast.

The blast occurred in the brick home of Henry C. Elphick, a truck driver, who started out with another son, Robert, with a load of furniture for New England, a short time before the explosion.

Police and firemen recovered the body of Fred Louis Elphick from the ruins of the wrecked home. His mother, Mrs. Pauline Elphick, 50, was taken to York Hospital with severe cuts of the scalp and face.

The other son, Jack, 17, suffered minor shock and minor cuts but did not require hospital treatment. The neighbor woman, Mrs. Viola Appleby, was also taken to York Hospital for treatment of the broken leg.

Dr. Thomas M. Hart, York County coroner, said the Elphicks boy suffered a fractured skull, probably when hit by debris.

State police reached the boy's father at Coatesville and informed him of the blast.

Hershey's Lead Being Cut Down

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hershey's seemingly insurmountable American Hockey League lead was in jeopardy today after the Cleveland Barons had closed to within three points of the Bears.

The Bears, who had threatened to spread-eagle the field, bowed to the Springfield Indians 5-4 in sudden death overtime last night. Meanwhile, the resurgent Barons edged the Providence Reds 2-1. The Rochester Americans and the Buffalo Bisons tied 2-2 in the other game.

Floyd Smith's goal—his third of the game—after seven seconds of the sudden death extra stanza gave Springfield the victory. Hershey's Hec Lalande had sent the contest into overtime by scoring with 45 seconds left in regulation time. The triumph boosted Springfield into a fifth-place tie with Buffalo.

WEST VIRGINIA GOING AFTER DUKE'S SCALP

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

That swashbuckling band of Mountaineers from West Virginia blow into Durham, N.C., tonight to hang Duke's scalp alongside their other 14 victims of the basketball season.

This should be a relatively easy one for West Virginia, the top dog among the nation's court elite, for Duke has a 6-5 record.

The Mountaineers rest up after tonight and will have more than a week to solidify their forces for their meeting with St. John's of Brooklyn, the other undefeated major club, in Madison Square Garden, Feb. 5.

Hurdle For St. John's
St. John's, with a 9-0 record, still has three games on tap before meeting West Virginia. The big hurdle for the Brooklyn Redmen comes Saturday against Temple, one of the strongest teams on the eastern seaboard.

In fact, there is no doubt about it that St. John's still is pretty much of an untested outfit. Joe Lapchick's lads still haven't met a club in the same class as West Virginia, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, or for that matter, Temple.

In addition, Lou Roethlis, a 6-6 operative who has been one of the Redmen's mainstays, was injured in last Saturday's 65-53 triumph over neighboring St. Francis. If he doesn't come around in time for the Temple encounter, West Virginia probably will find itself alone in the undefeated bracket.

HAWKS DUMPED BY WARRIORS
The Philadelphia Warriors, last place team in the eastern division of the National Basketball Assn., ehov no respect for the position of the unsteady St. Louis Hawks, leaders in the west.

The Warriors, trailing in a skin-tight race for the east's third and final playoff position, dumped the Hawks 125-112 last night in St. Louis. It was Philadelphia's fifth straight victory over the western leaders. They have lost once to St. Louis.

The Hawks also lost to Detroit 105-98 Saturday night and their lead was sliced to 6½ games over second-place Cincinnati. The Hawks led by 10 several weeks ago.

Cincinnati gained ground yesterday, catching Detroit in the final minutes to win 107-103 at home. In other Sunday action, Boston, eastern leaders, evened a weekend home-and-home series, defeating second-place Syracuse 118-95. It was the Celtics' 16th straight home victory. Also, New York stepped .001 percentage points ahead of the Warriors by defeating Minneapolis 109-106.

Lehigh Will Start Drills February 18
BETHLEHEM — Bill Leckonby, Lehigh University head football coach, will begin rebuilding his senior-depleted squad February 18 with the start of spring practice.

Spring drills, as sanctioned by the NCAA, will last for 20 days. The early start will enable candidates to participate in spring sports without conflict.

The 1958 schedule: Sept. 27, Delaware; Oct. 4, at Gettysburg; 11, at Harvard; 18, Western Reserve; 25, Rutgers; Nov. 1, at Bucknell; 8, at VMI; 15, Buffalo; 22, at Lafayette.

Governor of Ohio Has Heart Attack
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill has suffered a mild heart attack, his office reported today.

The governor canceled all his engagements, and was put to his bed late last week.

Announcement that he had suffered a heart attack was made by his press secretary, Hal W. Conefry.

Aides said the 41-year-old Republican governor probably will be kept in bed for the next three weeks. He is at the mansion in suburban Bexley.

Attending physicians are Drs. George I. Nelson and Robert C. Kirk, both of Columbus. The physicians said he is getting all the treatment at home that he could receive in a hospital.

Women's Clubs Uphold Culture
CINCINNATI (AP) — Women's clubs are the main pillar of contemporary culture, a Brandeis (Mass.) University psychologist said here recently. Speaking at a dinner meeting of the university's local Women's Committee, Dr. Abraham H. Maslow said:

"If women's clubs were wiped out, our whole culture would collapse. They perform useful tasks in supporting music, art, education and other forms of culture."

MILLIONS OF CAR OWNERS TO USE NEW CARDS FOR GAS BUYS

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of car owners this month are joining the ranks of those who slice time off their stops in service stations by using plastic embossed credit cards.

These cut even more time off the handling of credit in the accounting rooms of oil companies as they push millions of credit records through electronic tabulators.

The move from the paper credit card is spreading to the hotels, with the American Hotel Assn. issuing 120,000 of its own credit cards and encouraging its members to install machines to do the accounting in jig time.

Simplifies Operation
This month Esso, Texaco, Sococo and Continental started using the new system. Only a handful of oil companies still stick to the paper card method, where the service station attendant copies all the data onto invoices.

Soco Mobil says the old process took an average of just under two minutes, while the new method cuts this to under one minute.

The attendant puts the customer's card in a mechanical imprinter, which contains the dealer's identification plate (a metal one). Both bits of information are imprinted on the credit invoice. The dealer has only to write in the sale amount; the customer only to sign his name.

Credit Business Grows
Texaco officials say in the last 10 years their credit business has grown by 20 per cent annually. The company has mailed plastic cards to 23½ million customers in all 48 states and set up imprints in 35,000 stations.

counts and getting the cards embossed.
Soco Mobil has embossed more than 2½ million cards with credit customer's name and account number. Its central computer will tabulate 50 million transactions this year.

Third Of Total Business
Esso Standard has chucked more than one million metal plates aside to start use of the plastic cards this month. It thinks the convenience will make up for the cost of the change.

Makers of the cards include: Farrington Manufacturing Co. of Needham Heights, Mass., supplying among others Atlantic Refining, California Standard, Humble, Phillips, Shamrock, Shell and Tidewater; and Addressograph-Multigraph of Cleveland, whose early customers include Cities Service, Indiana Standard, Sohio, Ohio Oil, Richfield and Union Oil.

Cards cost from three to six cents each, depending on the amount of data on them, and the imprints from $26 to $44.

Olmen say that credit card accounts are approaching one third of total service station business. Losses have been held under 1½ per cent for the most part and some companies report them much lower.

ROOKIE MAY BE FIELDER FOR BRAVES

MILWAUKEE (AP) — An unusual young man by the name of Al Spangler may start in center field for the World Champion Milwaukee Braves this season even though he isn't on their 1958 roster.

Spangler, 24, has been in the Army for the last two seasons and has never appeared in a major league game, but the Braves consider him a top drawer prospect.

"We have as high regard for him today as when we signed him at Duke University in 1954," Roland Hemond, the club's assistant farm director, said today.

Although he is the property of the Braves' Wichita, Kan., farm team in the American Assn., Spangler will train with the parent club this spring. He definitely is in the running for the center field job because of the dubious condition of Billy Bruton's injured knee.

Spangler, a Philadelphia, is an excellent bunter—a quality infrequently found in a rookie. For another, he is a smart, daring baserunner—maybe a shade slower than Bruton at his physical best.

MAY DIVIDE EASTERN LOOP

NEW YORK (AP)—A proposal to divide the Eastern Baseball League into north and south divisions will be voted on by mail.

Action on the proposal was postponed at the conclusion of the league's winter meeting yesterday because representatives from Albany, N.Y., and Lancaster, Pa., weren't present.

League President Thomas H. Richardson says he is "almost certain" the proposal will be accepted.

The league's Baseball Writer's Assn. also met yesterday and elected Harry Dilser of the Reading, Pa., Times president. He succeeds Charlie Peet of the Binghamton (N.Y.) Press. Ray Keyes of the Williamsport (Pa.) Sun-Gazette was elected vice president and Marvin Behr of the Binghamton (N.Y.) Sun, secretary-treasurer.

The division plan, proposed by Richardson, puts Albany, Springfield (Mass.) Binghamton (N.Y.) and Williamsport (Pa.) in the northern division. York, Lancaster, Reading and Allentown, all of Pennsylvania, would be in the south division. The plan also would divide the league into two divisions.

Against Alumni Aids In Sports

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — University of Colorado's Harry Carlson is one athletic director who doesn't want any alumni assistance in athletics.

"The more help you get from the alumni in athletics, the less you possess your own soul," Carlson claims. "Dependence on alumni is responsible for the terrible conditions existing today at many universities."

Carlson says football at Colorado "pays for itself and a little more" and that "scholarships are based on scholastic attainment, individual need and character."

Five points—three of them missed conversions and two of them a safety—were all that separated the 1957 Colorado football team from having an unbeaten season. The Buffs won six, lost three and tied one.

BLINKING LIGHT IS NEW WEAPON TO DAZE ENEMY

By STANLEY MEISLER
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The white flickering light became a churning rainbow. Strange figures — in blue, in red, in violet — spun across the screen and fascinated me. Then I felt woozy. "I feel as if I were about to get sick," I said.

"But you're not sick yet?" Dr. L. M. N. Bach asked.

"No, I'm not."

My reaction was similar to many other subjects in experiments at Tulane University, where scientists tried to help the Army, in the era of nuclear power, find a battle weapon based on psychological power.

The weapon is flickering lights.

The Army is looking for a weapon that would make the enemy too sick or dizzy or sleepy to fight. Dr. Bach and his associates hope their research is the first step toward that weapon.

Has Hypnotizing Effect

Scientists long have noticed that some people are annoyed by lights that go on and off. A few can not drive their cars when sunlight flickers through a row of roadside trees. Others are made extremely uncomfortable by the flickering light of a movie.

In the Tulane experiment, subjects sat in front of a screen that shielded a light going on and off. The subject would press close to the screen and watch. The light blinked about nine times each second.

"I felt slightly dazed as if I were beginning to be hypnotized," said one subject. But he never was hypnotized.

"I felt as if I were going out into space somewhere," said another. But he kept full control of his senses.

"I'm sleepy," said another. But he did not fall asleep.

Few Became Sick Or Fell Asleep

A reaction of "almost" or "as if" was the typical one in the experiments. Only rarely did a subject become sick or fall asleep. For the Army, "almost" and "as if" were not enough.

In a second experiment, researchers and their assistants tried to walk through a dark room cluttered with obstacles. As they began to pick their way, the flickering lights opened up. Several subjects became sick, lost their balance and took many minutes trying to move out of the room.

Further Research Needed

But then the researchers put through a group of students who knew nothing about the experiment. They had no trouble getting out. It was obvious the experimenters had trouble because they wanted to.

These findings and others were reported to a group of specialists recently brought here from across the nation. They had two suggestions: further research on what actually makes a person fall asleep or become unconscious and new experiments with the flickering lights including an element of battle fear. Some said that while flickering lights had little effect on students in a room, it still might send frightened soldiers into a panic.

Army officials have promised to decide — perhaps by the end of the year — whether to keep searching for a strange simple weapon or to flick out the whole idea entirely.

URGES POSTAL RATE INCREASE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield said Friday that if Congress does not raise postal rates soon it may be necessary to ask another five-billion-dollar increase in the national debt ceiling.

This would be in addition to the five billion increase to 280 billion dollars which President Eisenhower asked and which the House passed on Friday.

Summerfield told the Senate Post Office Committee the postal deficit has totaled six billion dollars since the end of World War II. It is running now at a 700 million dollar annual rate and soon will be a billion a year if rates are not raised, he said.

Summerfield appeared before the committee to urge adoption of Eisenhower's recommendation that the rate on all except local letters be made 5 cents instead of the present 3.

CLAIM U. S. NOT OUTSTRIPPED IN H. BOMB EFFORT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional atomic specialists today appeared generally satisfied the United States is not being outstripped in the effort to harness the H-bomb reaction for electric power.

"We're keeping our end up,"

The President proposed this as an amendment to a House-passed bill, now before the Senate committee, which would boost the letter stamp to 4 cents.

was the tone of comment by members of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee who were questioned about Friday's U.S.-British announcement.

The atomic agencies of the two allies announced "fruitful and promising results" from separate laboratory-scale experiments in both countries, but said practical power from hydrogen fusion still is years away.

U.S. In Good Light

The announcement came after a series of stories in the British press that Britain had achieved a significant breakthrough in this research, but U.S. pressure had prevented its announcement until American achievements could be shown in a good light.

There seemed little disposition among committee members, even among some who have been critical of U.S. Atomic Energy Commission policies, to accept this view.

Rep. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania senior Republican House member of the group, said his principal interest was "to see that we got enough credit in the announcement. Without the information our people furnished, the British could not have accomplished what they did."

"Emorolled In Politics"

Chairman Durham (D-NC) said "I see no basis for thinking we were outstripped by the British."

A congressional source who asked not to be quoted by name said that "unfortunately the effort has become embroiled in politics in both countries—but especially in Britain, where the opposition is trying to make an issue by charging the government with knuckling under to the United States and keeping British scientists' achievements under wraps."

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he is satisfied with the progress of the U.S. program.

Rep. Price (D-Ill.), chairman of the subcommittee on research and development, agreed that the U.S. program is making good progress. But he added, "That isn't to say that we couldn't do more. I have the impression that we could, for example, by getting more scientists into the work. It may be more money is needed."

The subcommittee Price heads will consider the U.S. thermonuclear power program at an open hearing Feb. 10.

The Cincinnati Redlegs set a major league record for pinch home runs in 1957. They hit 12.

Antarctica Is Said To Be The Highest Continent With 20,000 Foot Mountain Peak

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter
LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica (AP) — The first dim ideas about the surface features of inland Antarctica lying beneath its great mantle of snow and ice are beginning to emerge from studies made by International Geophysical Year scientists.

Initial reports of depth soundings and other observations, assembled here for the first time, suggest that the continent is less formidable in elevation and perhaps in area than formerly believed.

Antarctica long has been regarded as the highest of all continents—two miles above sea level in much of its heartland and about twice the size of the continental United States.

The new findings indicate Antarctica is the highest continent only because of its enormous ice cover, which may be 6,000 to 12,000 feet thick.

Stripped of its permanently frozen white top, it might well be a land of moderate heights and depths. It does, however, have at least one mountain peak rated at 20,000 feet above sea level.

No Polar Plateau
Soundings taken at the South Pole and data obtained by fillers in that area are beginning to produce indications that there is no high polar plateau other than the thick ice which keeps its surface at nearly 10,000 feet above sea level, says Dr. Harry Wexler, chief U. S. scientist for Antarctica.

The evidence to date, although meager, suggests that the polar region may be a great basin dotted with hills and mountains. There are signs also, the scientists say, that there is an ice-buried mountain range partly encircling the pole area.

One of the most significant findings was made by Rev. Daniel Linehan, Boston College seismologist, at the pole itself. His seismological soundings indicated the U. S. pole station, calculated to be 9,200 feet or more above sea level, is resting on ice 8,300 feet thick and that bedrock there is only 900 feet above the sea.

ANTARCTIC ICE MINE: E. W. Remington of Bethesda, Md., grabs a rope ladder leading from man-made cavern at the South Pole. IGY soundings show the ice here is more than 1 1/2 miles thick.

Tests previously made at Byrd station, in the little known area 650 miles southeast of Little America, yielded an ice thickness figure of 10,000 feet. Since that U. S. station is 5,000 feet above sea level, solid land is 5,000 feet below the sea there.

Russian, French and Norwegian soundings at various points inland from the coasts and reported to IGY headquarters here, tell a similar story.

From these preliminary reports the little known interior of Antarctica begins to shape up as a land of hills, mountains, valleys and basins hidden under ice ranging

JUNTA FIRES 2 MILITARY MEN IN VENEZUELA

By MORRIS ROSENBERG

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The ruling junta fired two of its military men Friday night and as a result won a pledge of support from the civilian patriotic group that sparked the successful revolt against Dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The civilian leader, young newspaper reporter Fabricio Ojeda, said the roster of the two officers who had been closely identified with the fallen regime meant there was now "absolute political unity."

Mobs Roam Capital
Ojeda joined with the junta in appealing for an end to rioting and vandalism that has swept Caracas since Perez Jimenez fled early Thursday. But angered mobs still seeking vengeance against the dictator's supporters and diehard adherents to Perez Jimenez continued to roam the capital yesterday.

About 300 persons have been reported killed and 1,000 wounded in disorders that began with a general strike against Perez Jimenez Tuesday.

The strike and subsequent street fighting was led by Ojeda's civilian underground and soon won over younger military officers. Late Wednesday night senior officers led by Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal told Perez Jimenez it was time to go. He fled to the Dominican Republic.

Five Take Control
Larrazabal and four other officers then took over. The civilian group withheld support, however, and demanded free elections as soon as possible, as well as other guarantees that freedom had returned.

The civilian rebels and a strong young officer faction opposed two junta members, Army Col. Roberto Casanova and Air Force Col. Abel Romero Villate. They were credited with important roles in suppressing a Jan. 1 revolt by the air force and some army units which touched off three weeks of ferment leading up to the general strike.

from a few hundred feet to two miles or more in thickness. Dr. Wexler says the finding suggests the true shape of the continent may be longer and narrower than the present maps indicate.

Escapes Train By Going Between Ties

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — It looked like a scene from a movie. Ben Capps was halfway across a narrow trestle when a train bore down on him. He didn't have a chance of getting off in time, not unless he jumped to almost certain death 75 feet below.

The engineer applied the brakes but the train didn't stop until the locomotive and several cars had run over Capps.

Several trainmen jumped off and began looking for the body. It couldn't be found.

Finally some one spotted Capps in a crowd of spectators. He had escaped by squeezing down between cross-ties, then crawling from beneath the train before it backed off the trestle.

Capps only injuries were a scratched back and a torn shirt.

WINNERS—AND A LOSER

SAYS NO REASON COMICS CAN'T GO ON FOREVER

By BERNARD GAVZER

CHICAGO (AP) — As the nation's top television comics topple from sight like ducks in a shooting gallery, the standard explanation is that TV is a monster that gobbles up material.

Casualties have included such TV luminaries as Milton Berle, Sid Caesar, Red Buttons, Wally Cox, Buddy Hackett. Rating troubles pester George Gobel, Jackie Gleason and Phil Silvers.

In most cases, as ratings drop there are fast maneuvers to find new writers to produce new and hopefully better material. Failure of the material is usually blamed for rocky ratings.

Mort Sahl, a rising young Chicago entertainer, suggests that this is a lot of baloney.

Should Go On Forever

"They didn't have anything to say in the first place," Sahl insists. "And unless you have something to say, all the material in the world won't help you. There's no reason a comedian can't go on forever and ever on TV."

For devotees of Sahl, the bushy-haired, slightly unhandsome young man comes across as a super-intellectual Will Rogers. In the cult rising around him, comedian is a dirty word. To comedians and to numerous critics — Sahl is a humorist.

Thus, Sahl on stage — or before the TV cameras — does not employ gags with socko punchlines. For instance, here is Sahl talking about go-now, pay-later travel:

Writers Are Not Necessary
"Well, the problem is that when a lot of passengers get home, the trip is no longer real to them and they stop making payments. But now some of the travel agencies have worked out ways of re-possessing the trip. If you're prestige-ridden, they can take the stickers off your luggage, which is the end. Or, if you're an incurable romantic, they can brainwash you, so you won't remember Paris."

For this sort of material, a man doesn't necessarily need a writer, just a mind able to take a telling bite on any sensitive part of the body politic.

Commands $3,000 A Week

This quality has made the 30-year-old performer an enticing though perplexing piece of property for TV. He is one of those TV oddities — a performer who received $25,000 for a one-year NBC contract yet appeared before cameras so seldom even his mother wouldn't have time to recognize him.

Sahl started out in the nightclub business in San Francisco. He lost his first job in a Chicago club, but since has scored heavily. One result of the pressure for his nightclub services is that he now commands a fee of $3,000 a week.

The value of such a nice salary, Sahl says, is that less people try to tell him to change his act, or soft-pedal some of the things he says. "With this money, no one argues."

ROBERT YOUNG'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD TUESDAY

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—The body of railroad tycoon Robert R. Young was due here today aboard his private railroad car for burial tomorrow next to the body of his only child.

The 60-year-old board chairman of the New York Central Railroad took his life with a blast from a double-barreled 20-gauge shotgun Saturday.

The body was found in the top floor billiard room of his 23-room winter mansion at West Palm Beach, Fla., by members of his household staff.

Authorities said the death was suicide. They could give no immediate reason.

Had Summer Mansion

Young's body came north in his curtained, gleaming silver private car, known by railroadmen everywhere as "No. 28."

The body was accompanied by his widow, the former Anita Ten Eyck O'Keefe, fellow members of the New York Central board and friends of the family.

The Youngs for years maintained a 40-room mansion for summer use here.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in nearby Portsmouth, where Young was listed as a member of the parish.

Burial will be in St. Mary's churchyard next to the body of his daughter Eleanor, killed in a plane crash in Matunuck, R.I., in 1941.

Only a few days ago, Young presided at a meeting of the New York Central Railroad Board of Directors at which it was voted not to declare a dividend for the present.

No Financial Issue

New York Central's earnings for December and 1957 were expected to be announced today but two top men in Young's financial empire said in advance finances had nothing to do with Young's suicide.

Last November it was proposed to merge the New York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroad.

James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, said Young's suicide "should not affect the merger prospect." Spokesmen for New York Central said discussion of the possible merger would continue.

David W. Wallace, Allegheny vice president and secretary, said Kirby, 65, probably will succeed Young as chairman of NYC.

WYNN CITES VISION LACK IN TELEVISION

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's something wrong, says Ed Wynn, when singers like Dinah Shore and Perry Como are telling jokes, actors like Boris Karloff are dancing and comedians like Ed Wynn are doing dramatic roles.

This was Wynn's comment on the decline of comedy in films and television. He attributes the trend to the lack of vision on the part of businessmen.

"I'm not against businessmen," he argued. "But I think they should stick to their field. I don't tell General Motors how to run their business. I don't think businessmen should dictate how entertainment should be run."

Laughter Essential

"Nothing is so essential to the nation today as amusement, which I take to mean laughter. Yet they take great comedians like Sid Caesar and Jackie Gleason off the air."

"Then they decide they need some comedy, so they give it to singers like Perry Como and Dinah Shore. They are my dear friends, but they aren't funny. I've also seen comedy done by Charles Laughton and Howard Keel, who aren't funny. And I've seen a fine actor like Boris Karloff doing a dance, while he isn't a dancer."

"Then they take Ed Wynn, who has been a comedian since 1904, and make a dramatic actor out of him. It doesn't make sense."

The veteran comic blamed this topsy-turvy world on businessmen who attempt to establish trends regardless of public needs and tastes.

He Isn't Bitter

And one of the problems in comedy is that new comics are pushed too fast by the commercial interests, he said.

"Take the case of a young boy named Johnny Carson," Wynn cited. "He shows some promise and immediately they put him on the network with 'The Johnny Carson Show.' I pleaded with him not to let them call it that. It put him right on the spot. And what happened? After a brief run, he was off the air."

"The same happened with 'The Jack Paar Show.' It was a failure, but now he's proving himself with 'The Tonight Show—With Jack Paar.'"

Wynn isn't bitter. At 71, he finds himself earning his peak salary, both as a dramatic actor and as a comic.

Boston University's hockey team includes five Canadian skaters.

Governor's Conference On Education Opens Tuesday; Will Present 14 Questions

HARRISBURG (AP)—The hard look for soft spots behind the cap and gown will mark Gov. Leader's much publicized conference on education, opening here tomorrow.

More than 300 of the state's teachers, school administrators, legislators and interested laymen will do the looking. And—in the opinion of one high official—what they find will result in some changes starting next September.

Gov. Leader says the conference which has grown from 100 to its present size as talk about it gained momentum, is "a desperately needed step in the right direction."

But others have suggested it overdramatizes the schools' deficiencies. These quarters say schools have improved in the past few decades.

The agenda ranges from improving the lot of the gifted child to improving vocational and extension courses for adults and day students.

12 Discussion Groups
The 300 will break up into groups of 12 for discussion. While no conclusions will be reached immediately, each of the 300 will fill out a questionnaire. The results will be tabulated and published in about three weeks.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, state superintendent of public instruction told a newsman that some of the results might well be put into effect next September. He would not hazard a guess as to how many.

Boehm said other recommendations would fall into two categories: those which would call for proposals before the 1959 legislature and those which could be implemented by the Department of Public Instruction.

Rep. Robert H. Breon (R-Centre) took issue with the thesis that schools in Pennsylvania are not providing a good education for their pupils.

Says Schools Keep Pace
After a recent tour of schools in his area, he said: "This is a new age. I know, but I honestly believe our schools are keeping pace."

Comparing present facilities to those he knew as a boy, the 39-year-old legislator declared: "These youngsters are way ahead of us. They're more attentive, more responsive and more responsible. They know their teachers and respect them. And they are also amazingly well-behaved."

The 14 questions on the agenda of the governor's conference are as follows:

Improve Instructions
1. How can we identify our more able students at an early age in order to improve instructions in both depth and breadth and thus challenge their ability?

2. How can guidance and counseling services be strengthened and used in planning better school programs for all students?

3. How can we improve course offerings and instruction in science and mathematics?

4. How can we improve course offerings and instruction in English and social studies?

5. How can we improve course offerings and instruction in foreign languages and other subjects?

6. What can be done to improve vocational and extension education programs as they relate to adult and day-school students?

7. How can we improve our present practices in the supervision of instructions?

Other Questions
8. How can we expand the use of films, television, and other audio-visual aids to instruction?

9. How can we provide better opportunities for post-high school education in Pennsylvania?

10. How can we encourage more young people to prepare for careers in education?

11. What changes do we need in our pre-service (undergraduate) and graduate education programs for teachers?

12. How can we encourage local school districts and administrative units to initiate or expand

One of many ferries that cross the strait, the Nankai Maru carried 141 passengers, including at least 10 children, and a crew of 29.

Thirteen other persons were missing in the sinking of a 35-ton fishing boat off Fukushima. A 17-ton fishing boat capsized off Ito with nine persons rescued and eight missing.

A small boat sank off Shizuoka with one missing, and two other vessels with eight aboard were unaccounted for.

NEW TENSIONS IN VENEZUELA; SAY JIMENEZ MAY HIT BACK

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—New tension gripped strife-torn Venezuela today amid reports that supporters of ousted dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez might be readying a counter blow.

Apprehension increased as the ruling junta went into emergency session last night and armored cars appeared on the capital streets.

The junta proclaimed its armed forces were in full control. But peace and order remained in peril until all diehard supporters of Perez Jimenez were rounded up throughout the country.

Peron To Leave

Authorities breathed more easily, however, over word from another ousted strongman—exiled Juan D. Peron of Argentina—that he would leave Venezuela "as soon as possible."

Peron, who took refuge in the Dominican Embassy after last week's uprising, said he expected to leave tomorrow, probably for the Dominican Republic. There, dictator Rafael Trujillo has already provided a haven for Perez Jimenez.

Former political leaders driven from Venezuela during the Perez Jimenez regime began flocking back.

Villalba Back

In the vanguard was Jovito Villalba, chief of the Union Republicana Democrata party, who claimed victory in the 1952 presidential election.

Venezuela must now build a strong, expanding economy, he declared, "so we don't have to depend only on petroleum or aims the United States might give us."

Villalba accused the United States of supporting dictators like Perez Jimenez, but he praised the American people "who have placed themselves at the forefront of the world because they worked harder than anyone else."

Fountain Collects Coins For Charity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It may not be the real thing, but it pays just as well—for charity.

The Great Western Shopping Center here has a replica of the Trevi Fountain in Rome into which world travelers toss coins to guarantee returning to Rome. Lately, folks have taken to tossing coins into the shopping center's replica fountain.

Caretakers say between $50 and $75 is recovered each month. The money is contributed to charity.

WHY NOT THE DAY OFF?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bothered by Monday blues?

You ought to work for Verne Barnes, secretary-manager of the Hialeah-Miami Springs Chamber of Commerce.

He says he hates to go to work on Mondays himself so he tries "to take the curse off for the people who work with me." For two years now he's been giving his employees what he calls the "Monday surprise"—a little gift for each worker.

Sometimes the presents are outright foolishness—like used window shades, frayed rope and so on. At other times, they consist of homemade fudge, passes to various attractions or invitations to dinner.

"We never know what's coming next," says his employees.

denial election. Perez Jimenez chased him out of the country and declared himself elected.

Villalba came from New York. Stepping from his plane, he said in a nationwide broadcast he was proclaiming a truce among the nation's political parties.

Venezuela must now build a strong, expanding economy, he declared, "so we don't have to depend only on petroleum or aims the United States might give us."

Villalba accused the United States of supporting dictators like Perez Jimenez, but he praised the American people "who have placed themselves at the forefront of the world because they worked harder than anyone else."

NIXON, SOVIET LEADERS MAY MEET ON TOUR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon and Soviet leaders apparently would like to meet. They might do so on Nixon's scheduled European tour next summer and fall.

There was no formal invitation for such a visit extended during Nixon's 42-minute conversation last week with returning Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin.

But one result of that unusual conference is increased speculation that the U.S.S.R. wants to know a lot more about Nixon's thinking than they could learn through the Zarubin talks.

Top Soviet leaders might like to get a good look at a man who may be president and who won his political spurs by pounding away at opponents on the issue that they were soft on communism.

Nixon, in turn, apparently would like to get his own personal impression of Nikita S. Khrushchev and the other Soviet leaders with whom he would have to deal if he became president.

Leaves Late In Summer
Nixon intends to take off for Europe in late August or September. In the minds of some of his friends, the trip might have two advantages in his expected bid for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination:

1. It would round out his personal acquaintance with world statesmen.

2. It also would telescope his congressional campaign role. It would permit him to make some high-level speeches as the campaign closed, without being required to hammer away daily at the Democrats.

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's no real togetherness in dancing with a bear. It never leads to going steady.

We've been waltzing with the Russian bear since World War II—on disarmament and agreement still looks, if not impossible, years away.

The Russians wouldn't agree when they were away behind: when we had the monopoly on atomic weapons and superiority in planes to deliver them.

They're not likely to agree now when they have atomic weapons, are ahead in missiles, and may soon be ahead in planes.

What the world faces is a continued and enormous arms build-up and then one of these two possibilities:

Endless Small Aggressions

1. A gigantic stalemate in which because both sides have the power to destroy each other, neither will take risks.

2. A Russian gamble.

When it has the power to destroy the United States—if this country attempts to stop aggression—Russia may start endless small aggressions.

That is: small wars or intrigue or other devices, much bolder than anything seen so far, to take over its neighbors and the world.

That policy would be a gamble that the United States, facing annihilation in a big war, would not start a big one to stop a small one.

Meanwhile, both sides laid down disarmament terms neither will accept. Since neither trusts the other, both have this problem: How to look good while aiming to the teeth?

Pen-Pal Bulganin

The result has been a lot of propaganda, with regular flurries of "Yes, indeed, but—" kind of talk. We've just been through one of them.

This latest one began in December when Premier Bulganin, who is becoming everybody's pen-pal, wrote letters to this country and its allies.

He proposed a summit conference to talk disarmament. This was good propaganda. Unless we answered with something positive, the Russians would look good and we'd look terrible.

It put President Eisenhower on the spot. So much so that Secretary of State Dulles indicated the Russians were beating us in propaganda. Eisenhower finally answered.

Footloose Guarantees

He was all for disarmament, and wanted to extend it to space missiles too, but—Before we disarm, he made it clear, we want footloose guarantees against Russian cheating. This has been the standard American position. Congress could hardly approve any other.

Over the weekend Communist party boss Khrushchev gave an answer which also contained a big "but"—one this country could not accept. All he really did was to repeat what has become the standard Russian position.

He said Russia would discuss a ban on intercontinental missiles—but only as part of a package deal. That package must include American agreement to abandon its overseas bases.

But it's on those bases—now equipped with bombers, soon to be armed with missiles—that this country depends as its first line of defense for fast retaliation against any Russian aggression.

Austrian Actress Honorary Cherokee

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Austrian actress Romy Schneider, 19, who had expressed a wish to see the western United States as it appeared to the pioneers, got her wish.

Upon her arrival at Los Angeles International Airport yesterday, she was met by Ironeyes Cody, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian
